Business Transacted in the Various Courts Yesterday.

H. HAUSER ARRESTED FOR RAPE.

Proceedings in the Police and Probate Courts.—A Young Man Gets Five Months.

Business was rather light in the Third district court yesterday. The first case called up was that of James L. Smith, who is under indictment for criminally libeling Captain Middlemiss. The defendant moved for a continuance on the ground that he has not had time to bring on witnesses from Canada and California. The prosecution opposed the continuance and insisted that the defendant had had ample time. The motion was overruled and the case will be tried this week.

A CONTINUANCE.—The case of Alfred Solomon, charged with misappropriating public money, was continued for the term by consent.

THE JURY DISAGREES.—The case of Jonathan Mehty, of Bountiful, charged with selling liquor without a license, was then called up and a motion was made to continue it because of the absence of the defendant, who is said to have jumped his bonds of $400. The court denied the application. The case was then tried, and four witnesses testified that they bought beer from the defendant on July 24, 1889. Three other witnesses said they had been unable to get beer that day, but one finally admitted that he had purchased a keg from St. Lee, the defendant's employer. The jury, after being out several hours, came in and announced that they could not agree and were discharged.

MAINTAINING A SUICIDE.—The case of Mary J. McNiel, Thomas McNiel and William McNiel, charged with maintaining a public nuisance, was next called up and tried. The indictment alleged that the defendants kept a camp of men and horses on the bank of North Jordan creek near Bountiful. The jury remained out until 8 o'clock without arriving at any conclusion, and were then allowed to separate until this morning, when they will re-convene.

Arrested for Rape.—A man named Henry Hauser, was arrested by Deputy Marshal Doyle yesterday, on the charge of rape. The complaint alleged that the offense was committed upon Matilda Dietrich, aged eleven years, in this city, on May 15. Hauser was taken before Commissioner Greenman, who set the examination for 10 this morning and the defendant was taken out to the penitentiary.

In the Probate Court.—Thomas G. Bywater, drunk. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $5. J. H. Green, who entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of using profane and abusive language, withdrew the plea and entered one of guilty. He was fined $5. James Jones pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $5.

Hugh Corning, for obtaining meals under false pretensions, was fined $10, and will improve the city for ten days. Charles Swede pleaded not guilty to the charge of petty larceny. On motion of the prosecution the case was dismissed.

William Brown, in conjunction with two other young men, entered a big Grande car and purloined several articles of more or less value belonging to the railroad company. Brown is but eighteen years old, and when asked by the judge if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced on him, merely admitted that he was guilty of the offense, and he was sentenced to five months' imprisonment.

In the Probate Court.—The following business was transacted in the probate court yesterday:

Estate of Joseph McLelland, deceased; order made appointing June 7, 1890, at 10 a. m., to hear petition for letters of administration.

Estate of Joab Lawrence, deceased; order made fixing June 7, 1890, at 10 a. m., for settlement of executor's accounts.

SAVED HER LIFE.

I want to make known what Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has done for me. I was taken sick one year ago with what one doctor said was overflow of the gall, and another, ulcers of the liver. They thought I could not live. My mother persuaded me to try Favorite Remedy, and I did. My health was never better than it is to-day, and my weight is 140 pounds. Favorite Remedy saved my life, and I cannot praise it enough.

John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine; made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle at A. C. Smith & Co.'s drug store."

NO SUCH AN OFFICE.

Major Powell's Good Work on the Topographical Surveys of the West.

Department of the Interior, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., May 23, 1890.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

Dear Sir:—Permit me a word in regard to a recent special dispatch from your Washington correspondent. He says: "Colonel Hinton is the irrigation engineer of the geological survey." This is an error. There has never been any such office. Colonel Hinton has been for a few months a clerk of the Senate irrigation committee, and although he designated himself "United States irrigation engineer," there is no warrant for any such title. Your correspondent says that Major Powell "has been diverting the appropriations to the making of elaborate topographical maps of the west for the benefit of schools and colleges alone." In answer to this it is only necessary to say that Congress specifically directed the making of these topographic maps, that Major Powell regularly reported the progress he was making in the topographic survey, that appropriations have been repeatedly made for the continuance of that survey, and that both the appropriations committee and the irrigation committee have known exactly what they were doing. Moreover, these surveys were not made for "schools and colleges," but as a basis for the irrigation survey, which has been pushed forward simultaneously in every part of the west. Thirty million acres of irrigable land have already been segregated and thousands of miles have been selected, laid out and retained for reservoirs. It is Major Powell's estimate that the entire topographic and irrigation survey of the whole arid west can be completed in seven years with an expenditure of a million dollars a year.
